

CAIRNS ATHLETICS NEWSLETTER

10th July 2015

Hi All,

Looking forward to mostly sunny skies for our club day on Sunday after rainfall recorded at the Cairns Airport tripled the June average and interrupted some of our club days including our opportunity to visit Marlin Coast, However we hope you all enjoyed the school holidays despite the uncertain weather.

For star gazes the early night sky on the 1st of July was picturesque with the brightest and second brightest planets Venus and Jupiter appearing in the west staging their closest conjunction until August 2016. Venus orbits faster than Jupiter because of its close proximity to Earth, whereas Jupiter takes 12 years to go around the sun.

Just a reminder Barlow Park car park will be closed for our next two club days Sunday 12th and Sunday 19th July due to the Cairns Show. Access to Barlow Park will be via the Severin St and Spence St.
